

From the Archives – A look back to 1981

In this month's edition, we look back to 1981. This year was historically important to the Ontario Horticultural Association because it celebrated its 75th Anniversary. Many things happened to commemorate this event, including a convention in Niagara Falls. Delegates from Orangeville also attended the event which ran from June 17-19. One of the most notable events included a tree planting. In this group picture from left to right, we see Elizabeth Pether, Alfred Pether (president), Ed Endersby (immediate past president of OHA) Barbara McNaughton and Marion McNaughton. It is a good time to look back at this event as the OHA celebrates 115 years this year. I hope you enjoyed this month's "From the Archives." Stay tuned for next month's edition.
