

From the Archives – February 2024

Welcome to this month's edition of From the Archives. This month, let's look back at the late 1970s. Less than ten years after our society was founded, we already had a garden that we were maintaining at ODSS. It definitely looks different from what we have now, and you will notice the original sign for our horticultural society, a white trillium hanging at the garden bed. Hope you enjoyed this look back at our past. See you next month for the next edition of From the Archives.
