

From the Archives – January 2025

Here we are in another new year! During the cold winter months, I always like to think of Spring and all the flowers that are waiting under the snow. With that, here is a picture from the Firehall Garden Bed in 1989. The garden bed is resplendent with red and yellow tulips, and you can see our original sign hanging at the back of the garden bed. I hope you enjoyed this bright pop of colour during the snowy January weather.
