

From the Archives – May 2025

It's May, and the month of our first Flower Show for the year. To coincide with that, let's take a look at some pictures from May 24, 1977. Here you can see some of the beautiful spring entries as they grace the tables. The May Flower Show is always one of my favourites, as it hosts many beautiful spring blooms. In the second image, you can see the judge from that show, Mr. Doug Fendley, as he takes a look at the wide variety of entries. See you next month for another edition of From the Archives.
